—— BIOGRAFIA

Born in Rome in 1991, after graduating in Art History, I immediately realised that I did not want to become an art critic, but rather wanted to create something beautiful through photography, drawing inspiration from everything I had studied during my years at university.

I am an architectural photographer based in Rome, but available anywhere and always ready to travel. Thanks to my studies in Art History, I have developed a strong aesthetic sense, which I bring to my photographic compositions.

I collaborate with various agencies such as Airbnb and Kindred, as well as with property managers, art galleries and venues, and I produce photo reportages for events.
